

RIPY COMES TO SPEAK FOR GILBERT

And Cox in Madison—Powerful Democratic Speakers Here in Closing of Campaign

The closing days in the campaign in Madison county are full of oratory. The feature of the Democratic campaign will be the appearance here on the same platform with Judge Gilbert Ripy, whom Gilbert defeated in the primary. Ripy is a loyal and fighting democrat and he is speaking all over the district for his successful opponent. Ripy is a great favorite with Madison democrats. They gave him a big majority and his speaking dates will undoubtedly draw large audiences. In fact all democratic appointments are being attended by large and enthusiastic crowds.

A Big Day At Berea

Berea, which is reported on fire for the League of Nations and Cox and Roosevelt, will have an opportunity of hearing three distinguished speakers Friday night. They will be Dr. E. L. Powell, pastor of the First Christian church of Louisville, President W. G. Frost, of Berea, and Judge Gilbert. They speak at the chapel Friday night at 7 o'clock.

This will undoubtedly be one of the banner political meetings of the entire campaign in that end of the county. The statement of President Frost, a life-long republican, in favor of Cox and the League of Nations, has caused a sensation all over Kentucky. It is another indication of the tidal wave of public disapproval which is following the various and sundry positions that Senator Harding is assuming in an effort to win votes.

At Kirksville

Miss Alice Lloyd, who became famous by her advocacy of the cause of the tobacco growers several years ago, will speak at Kirksville Friday night. Marshall E. Vaughn, secretary of Berea College, will speak with Miss Lloyd. It will be a big occasion at Kirksville and a great crowd will be present.

The complete list for the appearance of Col. Ripy and Judge Gilbert and other speakers in the county during the closing days of the campaign is as follows:

MATT S. COHEN REGISTERS DENIAL

Former Commissioner of Agriculture Answers Report of Inspector James

(Lexington Herald)
Denial of charges made by Henry E. James, State Inspector and Examiner, of misconduct in the affairs of the Department of Agriculture and the State Fair during his term of office, is made in a statement by former Commissioner of Agriculture Matt S. Cohen.

In a complete answer to the report of Mr. James made public September 30, Mr. Cohen explains how the report features matters taken up with him when he was on a "sick bed," whereas previously, in a lengthy interview at the capital in Frankfort, only "duplications in expense accounts" were discussed by the inspector.

Answering a charge that horses had been favored in the premium lists of the State Fair at the expense of the cattle events, Mr. Cohen declares that in 1919 the enormous sum of $20,000 was offered in the fatted and feeding cattle event, the great bulk of which was included in distributions of $12,790, every cent of which "I begged for the state fair that year." In fact without fear of being contradicted, by anyone speaking with authority, I say that the 1918 State Fair catalog and reports will show that almost twice as much money was paid to the owners in the cattle division of the fair as was paid to owners of horses.

"In 1917, when we first gave the sum of $10,000 for the world's championship for five gaited saddle horses, I had $8,835 of that money given for that express purpose.

"The inspector and examiner's charges that I discriminated in favor of the horse interests against cattle, hog and sheep are not supported either by fact or figures as even a slight examination of the books and catalogs of the fair would have shown."

Relative to his giving out free tickets to the fair, Mr. Cohen says that prior to the fairs of 1918 and 1919 he had 1,000 "Official Distributors" tickets made out and sent to those persons who had made large contributions to the fair, that fully 90 per cent of them lived out of the state of Kentucky and that not as many as 200 of these tickets were ever received at the gates of the fair. Continuing, he said: "Since these contributions during my term of four years amounted to more than $34,000, all of which I obtained from my friends living in other states, which amounted to more than three times my salary as commissioner during my entire term, I feel that in activities I drove a reasonably fair bargain."

The banquets, regarding which Mr. James, the state inspector and examiner, said: "Of all the unspeakable, inexcusable, reckless and cruel waste of public funds, these banquets are the most outrageous," brought from Mr. Cohen the following explanation: "Each year, six weeks previous to the fair, the State Board of Agriculture gave what was known as a 'smoker' and to which were invited representatives of the business organizations of Louisville as well as some of Louisville's professional men including those of the ministerial profession. These smokers were given in an effort to rouse the necessary interest in the state fair and for the purpose of having each organization civic and otherwise, in the city of Louisville to name a state committee and outline the work to be done by the various organizations, they assuming the responsibilities of engaging in certain activities, all of which were of great benefit to the success of the fair. I have always that the few dollars spent in so advertising if you choose to call it that, harvested their value many, many times for the fair association."

"As to the Uncle John Shell matter the inspector's statement seems to be made with a deliberate view of connecting me with that matter. I say frankly, however, that I had no connection with it, did not receive any venture. Neither did I authorize the part of the income or proceeds of that turning of receipts over to Mr. Gatewood, and I do not believe that Mr. James, or Mr. Asher, of Mr. Anderson, or anyone else, will go so far as to say that I had any connection with that matter."

"As to the charges of practice of nepotism, the inspector names only one person against whom the charges might be directed. The fact is that I did not have the employment of the persons charged with grafting by the inspector. If the inspector is so dead against the practice of nepotism, I suggest, on information received, that

M'SWEEEN RESIGNS AT RICHMOND WELCH CO.

Popular Hardware Man to Return to His Old Home in Texas After November 1

M. J. McSween, manager of the Richmond Welch Company, has tendered his resignation and will return to Texas, his former home. It is understood that he will be connected with the Walter Tibbs Company, or the Winchester Company, at Austin. He was with former concern before coming to Richmond, and the Texas hardware men are said to have offered him a handsome advance in salary to return to them.

Few business men who have come to Richmond have made more friends in as short a time as Mr. McSween. He has an engaging personality and knows the hardware business from start to finish. It will be with sincere regret that his host of friends see him and his family leave Richmond. He came to Richmond with the opening of the big establishment with which he has been connected last January, and his resignation will take place November 1, next week.

He might spend a few moments in the capitol building at Frankfort, and find amongst the state employees even now quite a number of kinsfolks not employed for a matter of six days, but employed and drawing good pay for the entire term.

I am charged by Inspector James with having padded and duplicated my expense accounts in sixteen different instances at the expense of the State Fair, and which the inspector claims to amount to a total of $1,272.47. Should I go into a detailed account of each trip it would add materially to the length of this already long reply. I want to say at this point, however, what I said at the conference mentioned above, that if I had taken or misappropriated from the state or the State Fair one dollar or one penny or any other amount, I am ready, willing and able to make reparation to the fullest extent, but I do not propose to have the inspector act as judge and jury on the question of law and fact involved. I did state that the amounts collected, shown by the vouchers and receipts in possession of the inspector, were all that I had taken receipts for as required by law, and that a greater part if not all, of the $1,272.47 was spent as legitimate expense on these trips and was paid out for entertainments, autos, tips and other minor necessities absolutely essential in the successful solicitation of funds for premiums at the Kentucky State Fair.

"Had the inspector desired to be fair in this entire matter instead of smothering and misrepresenting, he might have quoted a resolution passed unanimously by the State Board of Agriculture in session September 10, 1919, which was adopted by a rising vote and which, I believed, is the first instance on record of any such motion or resolution.

"Whereas, The legal head of the Kentucky State Fair is the Commissioner of Agriculture of Kentucky, and, Whereas, The term of the present Commissioner of Agriculture, Matt S. Cohen, expires January 1, 1920, and Whereas, The said Matt S. Cohen has succeeded in procuring contribution to the Kentucky State Fair in the following amounts during the following years, to-wit:

1917 Kentucky State Fair $ 8,835.00
1918 Kentucky State Fair $12,200.00
1919 Kentucky State Fair $13,790.00

$34,825.00
"Therefore, be it resolved, by the State Board of Agriculture of Kentucky now in session, that the most profound appreciation and gratitude be expressed and extended to the Hon. Matt S. Cohen, Commissioner of Agriculture, for his earnest, untiring and successful efforts for and in behalf of the Kentucky State Fair, and we further acknowledge our deep feeling and admiration for the exalted position the Kentucky State Fair occupies as a result of the courageous and progressive leadership of the Hon. Commissioner of Agriculture, Matt S. Cohen; and

Be it further resolved, that these resolutions become a part of our minutes and that a copy of same be delivered to the Hon. Commissioner of Agriculture by the clerk of this board. Signed, James R. Rash, member, State Board of Agriculture, Henderson, Ky.

"The foregoing resolution, as I remember, was introduced by a member of the board who is of opposite political faith to me."

And Retraction and Rodes Terrill Has His $25,000 Libel Suit Dismissed in Court

Friends of both parties were gratified to learn this week that the $25,000 libel suit brought by Rodes S. Terrill against J. A. Sullivan, of this city, was dismissed upon motion of Mr. Terrill's attorney, G. Murray Smith in circuit court this week. This action followed filing of Judge Sullivan's answer to the original suit, in which Judge Sullivan makes full retraction and apology for having made statement derogatory to Mr. Terrill, which Mr. Sullivan says was based upon rumors which he has found to be wholly false and without foundation. The final papers in the case, which were filed and thus terminate it are as follows:

Mr. Sullivan's Answer
Madison Circuit Court.
Rodes Terrill, Plaintiff.

vs.
J. A. Sullivan, Defendant.
Comes the defendant, J. A. Sullivan and withdraws his demurrer filed herein, and for answer to so much of plaintiff's petition as he is advised he should answer, says:

That he admits that he wrote the letter complained of in plaintiff's petition, and that he made the statement in said letter that Judge Gilbert was regarded by the ex-service boys as a slacker, and that he came to this county and made a trade with another slacker to be his secretary. Defendant says that when he made said statement he did not expect it to be published and that he had no intention to injure the plaintiff, Rodes Terrill, and that he regrets having made such statement in the first place in said letter, and that same was based on what was a common rumor, and information that had come to him only as a rumor; defendant admits that he should have investigated the rumor to find out whether or not it was true before making any statement either in private letter or for publication; defendant says that he has investigated said rumor and he finds that it is not true and he desires to express in this answer his genuine regret and to apologize to the plaintiff, Rodes Terrill, for the unintentional wrong he did him in writing the letter and stating what he did in said letter with reference to him, and says that he did not mention the name of the plaintiff in said letter and that he did not intend to injure the plaintiff, that he does hereby retract said statement, and does hereby state that his investigation of plaintiff's record during the recent world war discloses the fact that the plaintiff, Rodes Terrill, was not a slacker, but that he served in such capacity as the government saw fit to assign him for duty, and that he has an honorable discharge from the service. Defendant files a copy of the letter complained of in plaintiff's petition and makes same part thereof, marked "Exhibit A."

JOHN GALVIN,
E. J. McDERMOTT,
A. R. BURNAM, JR.,
JOHN NOLAND.

The defendant, J. A. Sullivan, says the statements contained in the foregoing answer are true.

RECORD BROKEN IN MADISON COURT

Three Murder Cases Were Called and Disposed of Within a Period of 48 Hours

Within a period of 48 hours in the Madison circuit court, three men were found guilty of murder and sentenced to prison, perhaps a record not equalled in the history of local crime punishment. The three verdicts came as a result and an echo of the crime wave which swept this county and part of the state during the summer months. The decided and prompt disposition of the cases indicated the desire of those in a position to do so to mete out justice in an effort to eliminate the practice.

There were five murder cases on the local boards at one time. One of them was done away with by the death of the murderer and another by the escape of the man who caused another death. The first was Emil Lorisich, the second Elbert Shanks, colored. Four of the five murders resulted from the use of the pistol.

The abolishment of the practice of carrying concealed weapons was advocated and dwelt upon extensively by Judge W. R. Shackelford, of the Madison circuit court, at the opening of the present term of court, when he addressed the members of the grand jury. Upon that occasion, Judge Shackelford deplored the carrying of concealed weapons, stating that there were but two prime objects, generally, as follows: One was for the reason that the person who carried a revolver at all times was a coward or went out with the intention to start trouble, the killing of some one being a secondary consideration.

MURDERED MEN AND THEIR SLAYERS

Something About Trio Convicted in Local Court Who Will Leave For Prison Soon

Andy Poff, convicted of murder and sentenced to state prison for a period of 15 years by a jury Wednesday afternoon, is 31 years old and had been commissioned a constable for some time. His manner of work was criticised by many. Some of his friends, it is said, at times cautioned him about his manner of conducting himself, being an officer of the law. He was married and had four children. This fact, it is believed by many, is one of the high contributory causes for his not having to pay a decidedly more severe penalty.

Jasper Kirby, whom Poff shot and killed at the Berea fair, was known as an exemplary young man. He had recently returned from service in the United States navy, where he served with distinction. Kirby, together with a number of friends, was at the fair when the trouble occurred. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kirby, are well known residents of the county, residing four miles east of the city.

John Keeton, convicted of the murder of Robert Powell, is 41 years old, and a life-long resident of Richmond. He was known as an industrious man of the hard-working kind. He had trouble with Powell some time ago and caused a peace warrant to be filed. While married, Keeton had not been living with his wife, the cause of the tragedy, for several months. Powell, the victim of his bullets, was 28 years old, and a well known young man, having lived here the greater part of his life. He served with distinction in the army during the recent war after which he returned to Richmond. He was unmarried, and an aged mother, of whom he was the sole support, it is said, survives him.

Thomas Gentry, colored, the third man convicted, is 32 years old and unmarried. He is well known to the police and has been in serious trouble as a result of shooting several times during the old and unmarried. He is well known to his police record.

Dave Campbell, his victim, was 31 years old and married. He had been a resident of Richmond for a number of years and was known as a steady worker. He was employed as a section man on the L. & N. at the time he met his death.

WHAT MURDERERS THINK OF VERDICTS

Three murderers, receiving their sentences in the Madison circuit court, within a many days, will perhaps be taken to prison directly at the conclusion of the present term. That will be this week is all probability.

When asked what they had to say, after having been convicted, their statements, while suffering the intense moments awaiting the return of the men who had their fate in hand, were:

John Keeton, who killed Robert Powell: "It might have been worse, but I had it to do."

Andy Poff, who killed Jasper Kirby at the Berea fair: "I did not get justice."

Thomas Gentry, colored, who killed Dave Campbell, colored: "I don't know, but I guess it's all right."

Peace or Prussianism—Which?

The average voter who casts his ballot Tuesday will hardly be conscious of the fact that he is helping his country to make a choice between the above alternatives. And yet he is. Clemenceau leaving France for India recently said, "American has made a cult of Nationalism—but the end is Prussianism."

There is no great mind in America that can intelligently believe that our country can live in isolation and selfishness, apart from the affairs of the world. This has been more or less possible in the past, but no one believes that it can ever be again. Every mind that is not poisoned by partisan politics believes that our only hope for peace in the world is to league with the other nations that want peace and outlaw war and the nation that would insist on waging war. This is exactly what the League of Nations purposes to do. Mr. Cox and the democratic party stand for America's entering this league, ratifying the Paris peace treaty and meeting in an honorable way her obligation to her allies. The party is solidly behind this program.

Mr. Harding and those of the republican party who have determined his position, are committed to the "rejection" of this league, but not all the republican party. Mr. Taft, Mr. Root, Mr. Wickersham, and scores of other republican leaders are for the present league with reasonable reservations. The shame of it is that these men do not lead the party. Those who stand for "rejection" dominate.

The league is already functioning in the prevention of war and with America's added strength and prestige, the world march against war will begin. No one claims the league absolutely prevent any war, but will gradually diminish and localize war until the nation that would war will be outlawed by the rest of the world.

Rejection of the league, means immediate increase of America's fighting forces, an enlarged navy to compete with England and Japan, and an enlarged army with compulsory military training and billions of dollars in taxes each year to maintain her fighting forces. It were folly for America to live in a world whose friendship she has thrown away and not prepare for war. This means militarism, it means Prussianism. The logic of the republican party "America First" sounds good, but this was Germany's slogan, and Germany is bitterly repenting her rejection of the word of the Great Teacher, "He that would be first among you, let him be servant of all."

Peace or Prussianism—Which? Entering the League America takes the way of peace, rejecting it, she takes the way of war. Every voter helps to choose the way.

The Simple System of Heating

IMAGINE the economy, imagine the convenience, imagine the comfort of heating your whole house—bedrooms, halls, stairways and all—from just ONE fire! Think what it means to do away with all the mess and fuss of handling coal and ashes in the living room! Think how healthful it is to have those chilly bedrooms and cold, drafty halls so warm that the children can run all over the house and the baby play on the floor without the danger of catching cold! Think what it means to have ALL THE HEAT YOU WANT IN EVERY ROOM and yet just one fire to tend—and that but twice a day!

Moore's Pipeless Furnace

—the SIMPLE SYSTEM OF HEATING—gives you all of these things and more. And the whole job of installation can be done in just ONE day. In addition—because of MOORE'S ANTI-CARBON FIRE-POT (shown in the cut at the right) it saves you just 38 cents on every dollar's worth of fuel you use. For this fire-box BURNS the gas, smoke and soot that other heating systems WASTE. It will burn slack coal just as well as the best grade of lump. There are many other advantageous features in MOORE'S Pipeless Furnace, such as its Self-Cleaning Radiator, its large Moisture Pan, etc.—features that give you an even, moisture-laden warm atmosphere that is essential to good health. In fact MOORE'S is the Pipeless Furnace supreme—the best and simplest heating system that you can secure. Come in and let us explain all about it. Then—BE YOUR OWN JUDGE!

ELAINE HAMMERSTEIN HAS
COLORFUL ROLE IN NEW PLAY

"It all depends on where you sit," is an old saying which most aptly describes Elaine Hammerstein's latest Selznick picture "The Point of View" which is announced as the headline attraction at the local theatres today.

Miss Hammerstein is seen in this production as the daughter of a once wealthy father. The girl is the only member of a family who have never had to provide for themselves and who consequently are completely lost when adversity strikes them. Hitherto the Thorncroft family have always looked down upon anyone not born of the blood, but their point of view is changed by a big-hearted westerner who capably demonstrates to them that when a friend is needed it is red blood that counts far more than blue. "The Point of View" is one of those "common sense" pictures that avoids all extremes of theatricalism and puts over its point by the real true-to-life situations it depicts. The story is by Edith Ellis and Alan Crosland directed the picture.

Rockliffe Fellows, Arthur Houseman, Hugh Huntley, Cornish Beck and Warren Cook are among those who support Miss Hammerstein in this fine screen play.

Coming Thursday also the big $75,000 match race between Sir Burton and Man O' War, and Antonio Moreno in "The Veiled Adventure."

JUNE CAPRICE DISCUSSES
"MAKE UP" AND LEADING MEN

The question of screen make-up always intrigues and mystifies the average person and the mental image of the color combination recommended by June Caprice is startling, at least.

June volunteers the information that she uses a yellow powder in conjunction with flesh colored grease paint. "It photographs well," she says, "because yellow comes out white on the screen and flesh color is just a little deeper. When I was a beginner I used to like to wear pretty make up, around the studio, but it photographed horribly."

"Just now I am getting rid of a fine collection of freckles which I accumulated down in the mountains of North Carolina where we were 'shooting' the southern scenes in 'In Walked Mary.' They interfere horribly with my make up but I do love the out doors and am happiest when we are doing 'exteriors.'"

"Comedy dramas is my favorite work," continues Miss Caprice. "Caprice of the Mountains" was my best until 'A Damsel in Distress,' an adaptation of Pelham Grenville Wodehouse's novel which ran in the Saturday Evening Post.

"I had the finest surprise when I inquired who my leading man was to be in 'In Walked Mary' who should it be but good old Tom Carrigan, who has played with me before and I knew right off the picture would be a great success. Tom is really quite a peach."

"In Walked Mary" is to be shown at the local theatres Saturday.

BIG PICTURE COMING

Imagine a country where beauty was interpreted in terms of fat, where wives were selected by the pound, and girl babies brought up on bananas and cream!

The reigning beauty of the fantastic Oriental kingdom of Morovenia had six chins. Her elder sister, the tiny Princess Kalora, was 20 year old and pretty as a picture, but she couldn't get a husband—she only weighed 98 pounds.

This is the tangle that marks the starting point of "The Slim Princess." It is unraveled with delightful humor in a picture that stars Mabel Normand.

When George Ade's musical comedy "The Slim Princess" started its phenomenal stage career audiences were convulsed by his whimsical conception of an Oriental country where women were esteemed for their weight, and no girl under 200 pounds had much chance of winning a husband.

This delightful farce has been picture-tized with Mabel Normand as the gay little princess whose 98 pounds made her taboo with both sexes, and will be shown here Friday. See it!

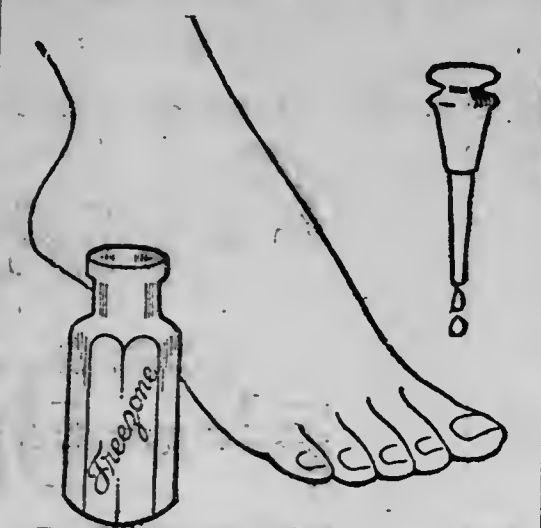

Turkey Season Coming

The season for turkeys will open about November 3 and there are indications that there will be a bountiful supply this year. Reports have been received to the effect that many have been raised and that the local markets will present some fine specimens in the near future. The reputation of Richmond as a central market for this favorite fowl is well known.

Judge Charles Kerr, of Lexington, will speak at that place on the League of Nations, at a big meeting Saturday night.

FEDERAL BOARD TO TRAIN COUNTY MEN

The Federal Board for Vocational Education is having remarkable success in retraining disabled Veterans of the world war who are no longer fit for pre-war occupations. The board trains disabled men in any occupation or profession for which they are mentally and physically fitted. The trainees are placed in the best schools, colleges and industrial establishments and are trained until capable of accepting positions. If necessary training covers a period of four years. At the completion of the course a position is secured for the man, and he is kept on the government payroll until it is certain that he will make good. While in training the men receive an allowance from $1,000 to $2,000 per year, and all transportation, tuition, books, tools and training supplies are paid for by the board.

In order that married men may take their families to the place of training, the pay for men with dependents is larger than the pay for single men without dependents. If the men desire, they are trained at or near the place of residence. The men are not under military control or do they have to sign up for any certain period of time. They may cease training whenever they desire.

Their compensation from the War Risk Insurance Bureau does not stop except during the time they are receiving training pay. When the man is discontinued or is retrained the compensation is resumed, if the disability still exists. The following men of this county are entitled to this training and it is expected that they will shortly take advantage of the government's generous offer:

Nathan McQueen, Cleveland, Ky.
Clarence Hagar, Cusick, Ky.
Noble L. Perkins, Richmond, Ky.
Willie H. Winkler, Red House, Ky.
Wm. Lucas, Chadwell, Ky.
Ray H. Mullins, Peoples, Ky.
Clarence Maupin, Berea, Ky.

Big posters for autos is the latest political feature the democratic county committees are introducing them in various counties and the new advertising line promises to increase.

RAIN MAKES MONEY FOR STOCK OWNERS

Cattle and Hogs Being Held Since Grazing Conditions Were Never Better in County

The rains have improved the pastures, which have been good during the entire summer and fall, it is said, the grass being abundant; in fact, to such an extent that much of the livestock has been held over. The rains, farmers report, will increase this need and there may still be another hold-over of cattle especially, since owners claim they can't make money easier than to admit of the cattle staying on the grass, especially since the rains, which, they declare, is very fattening; in fact, much more so than before the rain. There is an immense amount of cattle being grazed in this and nearby counties and it is believed that while the price is not what it was some time ago, there will be the greatest fall shipments for years. This, however, they do not expect to begin until a later date, owing to the grazing conditions being unequalled. Horses, which have heretofore reached the local market before this season of the year, are said to be growing fat since the summer's work is done, and it is predicted that the sale of mules both old and young will be the heaviest for years past, owing to the facilities for fattening now being presented.

Hogs, which have been making a good showing for sometime are thriving since the rains began, and owners assert the condition of the porker has been improved 40 per cent already.

This, they believe, will effect the general sale, and that pork, too, will be held for later sales, although a number of dealers are of the opinion the price will not be increased. "It will be nothing but the quantity," said one of them, who admitted that, like the situation in the case of cattle and horses, "it gives us an opportunity to fatten the stock after a hard summer's work, and they will be in much better condition than ever before, when they do reach the sales place."

"The change of sentiment is almost magical," he added.

GILBERT SCORES SWOPE'S TACTICS

Reads Affidavit Refuting False and Anonymous Circular Sent Over District

Harrodsburg, Ky., Oct. 28.—Judge Ralph Gilbert, democratic candidate for Congress in this district, in a speech here Saturday before a large crowd, charged Congressman King Swope with having "flooded" the district with false and anonymous circular, stating that Judge Gilbert had charged U. J. Thomas, of Shelby county, $75 for affidavits in connection with his questionnaire.

Judge Gilbert read the affidavit, sworn to by Thomas this week, in which Thomas makes oath that Judge Gilbert had nothing to do with his questionnaire, and that the service for which he paid Judge Gilbert a fee was the taking of an appeal to the district board for a reclassification, for which all attorneys charged. Judge Gilbert declares that Swope's charge was "the usual action of the discredited political candidate who is unable to stand on his own record or the record of his party."

He declared that Congressman Swope "by bragging on his war record and intentionally leaving his audiences under the belief that he saw service in France even to describing the battles, has so disgusted the soldiers of the district who know the facts" that 35 of the veteran of Anderson county, without any suggestion from Judge Gilbert, prepared and published a statement denouncing Swope's method of campaigning and declaring they would vote against him.

Judge Gilbert in stating his position in regard to a bonus for the soldiers of the world war said he was in favor of the four-fold bonus plan advocated by Gov. Cox, and endorsed by the democratic platform. Miss Iva Roberts, of Danville, and J. Sherman Porter, of Lexington, also spoke.

Miss Roberts went into the provisions of the League of Nations at length, showing how it would prevent war, establish a permanent court of international justice, provide for a reduction of armaments, and that all its members will not resort to war.

Miss Roberts clearly showed how false and baseless were the charge of the republicans that the League would involve the United States in war, and read from a statement by ex-President Taft to show that Mr. Taft had said that, "had he been in the Senate, he would have voted for the League." She told of the enforcement of the League of Nations by the American Bar Association.

Mr. Porter, who has been covering Kentucky as the field representative of J. Campbell Cantrill, of the organization department of the Democratic National Committee, brought a message of good cheer to the big crowd. He said he had been in five of the Congressional districts in Kentucky including the Eighth, and that he had not found in all his travels a single democrat who would not support Cox and Roosevelt, but that he had found republicans who would not vote their own ticket, and in some cases he had been told by republicans that they would vote for Senator Beckham though they would vote their own national ticket, because Beckham had "stood for the things that were right in the Senate."

Mr. Porter told how the republican administration was unable, apparently, to find "any republican in Kentucky worthy to be warden of the penitentiary at Frankfort."

"Imagine," said Mr. Porter, "trying the honor system among convicts which is in effect in the northern prisons, on the malicious, depraved negro prisoners at Frankfort. Is it any wonder that a teacher in Pine Mountain school should be outraged and brutally murdered near a camp where some of these northern ideas of honor among prisoners are being put into practice by a man who has no knowledge of the criminal negro of the South. Imagine a Kentuckian trusting one of these negro convicts, free and unguarded along a lonely road which a white woman would have to travel without protection."

Mr. Porter denounced the participation of republican circuit judges in partisan politics, declared that Judge Kerr, of Lexington, had been one of the "bitter, narrow and partisan critics of the President" and expressed the opinion that the democrats of Fayette county would "vote to take at least one circuit judge out of politics at the very earliest opportunity."

I also took the Vegetable Compound before my last baby came and am thankful to say that it relieved my sufferings very much and I shall never be without it at such times. LOCAL SPEAKERS GREETED BY MANY

There was a house filled with interested listeners Tuesday night at Watts school house to hear Mrs. Charles Keith, Mrs. Alice Lloyd and O. P. Jackson speak on the issues of the day relative to Democracy. With rain pouring down on the outside there were comfort and pleasing addresses on the inside and the speaking was received so enthusiastically that it was not concluded by the three speakers of the evening until a late hour. The matter of explaining the League of Nations, together with other issues was one of the features of the talks which were heard by a number of women, some of whom are said to have come for many miles.

The event was one of the most rousing taking place in that vicinity since the opening of the campaign. Mrs. Lloyd, who has been spending some time in Madison county in the interest of democracy, held the audience spellbound for some time during the recitation of some of the facts dealing with the result of embracing the League of Nations. Mrs. Keith was splendid speaker, bringing up conditions as they are at present and as they might be without the protection of wide influence. The talk of Mr. Jackson was along his pet line that of the League of Nations, which was well received.

Miss Lloyd Still Busy

Miss Alice Lloyd, who has been working untiringly in behalf of the Democratic party and especially the League of Nations, spoke at Speedwell Wednesday night to a large number of persons in her interesting and convincing manner. During the afternoon she was greeted by a large number at Forest Hill. There are many women who have heard her speak in various places, so impressed are they over her talk.

For Torpid Liver

"Black-Draught is, in my opinion, the best liver medicine on the market," states Mrs. R. H. White-side, of Keota, Okla. She continues: "I had a pain in my chest after eating—tight, uncomfortable feeling—and this was very disagreeable and brought on headache. I was constipated and knew it was indigestion and inactive liver. I began the use of Black-Draught, night and morning, and it sure is splendid and certainly gives relief."

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

For over seventy years this purely vegetable preparation has been found beneficial by thousands of persons suffering from effects of a torpid, or slow-acting liver.
